Dear Mr. Cannon,

I believe Division St. is a bad choice for a church of this size. The road and area doesn't seem a likely place to put a church with such a large parking lot. It will most likely take away from the quiet neighborhood it has always been. I hope the Board will consider not giving permission to build a church on this size of property! Perhaps a better choice for this property would be to build several small homes. That most likely would keep the area a neighborhood where people can live in quiet and peace without the traffic a church would bring.

Sincerely,

Joanna Olson
